

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

Monday 6th August to Monday 13th August 2012

Creative Arts Retreat Movement

Painting & Prayer

Chaplain: Revd Michael Campling

Tutor: Christine Dodd

Starting on the Feast of the Transfiguration the main theme will be that lovely Biblical word 'Glory' and what that means for us.

You can expect a warm welcome, space to reflect, pray and worship and time to be creative. There will be two leaders, a chaplain and an experienced artist. Each day there will be worship together, a meditation from the chaplain and plenty of time to paint. There is always silence overnight until after the meditation the next morning. There will be help and encouragement for beginner and experienced painter alike.

There is usually a delightful mix of able painters, absolute beginners and those in between. No previous painting experience is necessary, all that is asked is a willingness to be open and explore how our creativity can be a vehicle through which God can speak to us. The group are also happy to include those who do not wish to paint but might like to come for the quiet; maybe to read, to study or to walk.

Each applicant will receive fuller details nearer the time.

Arrive 4pm on the first day, depart after breakfast on the final day.

Cost £ 370
