

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

Friday 29 September 2017

Poetry as a way to God

A Quiet Day of Reflection led by Esther de Waal

Many of us today find ourselves battered by cascades of words, statements, declarations put out by the institutional church. Yet the Bible is full of story telling, visions, parables, and above all poetry! These address not the cerebral but the imaginative.

Wales and the Welsh Borders have from the earliest times until today produced religious poetry and priest poets whose works enable us to expand, even explode, our awareness of God.

So in a day of quiet reflective study we shall be exploring the way in which we can reclaim poetry as the language for God.

Coffee from 10am,
commence 10:30am
lunch included.

Cost £27

Supported by the Montgomery Trust

Llangasty Retreat House, Llangasty, Brecon, Powys, LD3 7PX

Tel: 01874 658250

email: enquiries@llangasty.com

www.llangasty.com

Charity Number 1060743

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

Friday 29 September 2017

Poetry as a way to God

A Quiet Day of Reflection led by Esther de Waal

Many of us today find ourselves battered by cascades of words, statements, declarations put out by the institutional church. Yet the Bible is full of story telling, visions, parables, and above all poetry! These address not the cerebral but the imaginative.

Wales and the Welsh Borders have from the earliest times until today produced religious poetry and priest poets whose works enable us to expand, even explode, our awareness of God.

So in a day of quiet reflective study we shall be exploring the way in which we can reclaim poetry as the language for God.

Coffee from 10am,
commence 10:30am
lunch included.

Cost £27

Supported by the Montgomery Trust

Llangasty Retreat House, Llangasty, Brecon, Powys, LD3 7PX

Tel: 01874 658250

email: enquiries@llangasty.com

www.llangasty.com

Charity Number 1060743