

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

16 to 18 November 2020

Advent Calls; O Antiphons

Led by the Revd Judy Dinnen

In these few pre Advent days, we will address the ancient, Old Testament cries, that form part of the Advent liturgy. We will read and reflect on the prayers and poems of Malcolm Guite and Ruth Burgess. We might explore our responses and what cries we feel moved to make. What moves us; what challenges us or excites us this Advent time? What is our prayer to God at this time? We might write our own Advent cries and/ or meditate on some of the images. We might use them in our worship.

Judy is a retired Anglican priest from just over the border in England. She studied for an MA in Creative Writing at Cardiff University and has a special link with Iona publications and the Creative Arts Retreat Movement. These all give her amazing and rich opportunities to explore faith and spirituality through word and especially poetry. Several times a year Judy visits and prays at this beautiful house and looks forward to sharing and praying with you when Advent approaches.

Arrive 4pm on Monday and depart after lunch on Wednesday.

Cost £170
