

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

30th November and 1st December 2021

Advent Calls: O Antiphons

Led by the Revd Judy Dinnen

You may have keys in your pocket. What do they open? What do they lead you to? Keys are one of the antiphon symbols we will explore during this retreat.

As this calendar year draws to its end, the Christian year starts afresh, with the season of Advent. We will look at the ancient symbols known as antiphons. They can be found in the familiar hymn 'O Come O Come Emmanuel'. We will let the symbols offer a way into prayer and reflection and, on the way, might draw or write a little.

Please bring with you something relating to Advent, a poem, prayer, picture or a candle? We will share our thoughts about these and hope to use some in our worship.

Judy Dinnen is a retired priest in the Hereford Diocese and an associate of the Iona Community. She is a writer and poet and will share poems by Malcolm Guite and ways of thinking introduced by Ruth Burgess of the Iona Community. Judy Dinnen has led retreats (and creative writing workshops) in Llangasty and other retreat houses across England and Wales. After this strange pandemic time, she welcomes the invitation to return to Llangasty and meet new people.

This retreat will be led as two consecutive days, from 10am to 5pm each day. To make a residential retreat we invite you to arrive for an evening meal on Monday and depart after breakfast on Thursday.

We would be grateful if we could all wear masks whenever we can. Thank you

Cost £250 Monday to Thursday

or £60 non-residential (Tuesday and Wednesday 10am to 5pm)

Llangasty Retreat House, Llangasty, Brecon, Powys, LD3 7PX

Tel: 01874 658250

email: enquiries@llangasty.com

www.llangasty.com

Charity Number 1060743

LLANGASTY

RETREAT HOUSE

30th November and 1st December 2021

Advent Calls: O Antiphons

Led by the Revd Judy Dinnen

You may have keys in your pocket. What do they open? What do they lead you to? Keys are one of the antiphon symbols we will explore during this retreat.

As this calendar year draws to its end, the Christian year starts afresh, with the season of Advent. We will look at the ancient symbols known as antiphons. They can be found in the familiar hymn 'O Come O Come Emmanuel'. We will let the symbols offer a way into prayer and reflection and, on the way, might draw or write a little.

Please bring with you something relating to Advent, a poem, prayer, picture or a candle? We will share our thoughts about these and hope to use some in our worship.

Judy Dinnen is a retired priest in the Hereford Diocese and an associate of the Iona Community. She is a writer and poet and will share poems by Malcolm Guite and ways of thinking introduced by Ruth Burgess of the Iona Community. Judy Dinnen has led retreats (and creative writing workshops) in Llangasty and other retreat houses across England and Wales. After this strange pandemic time, she welcomes the invitation to return to Llangasty and meet new people.

This retreat will be led as two consecutive days, from 10am to 5pm each day. To make a residential retreat we invite you to arrive for an evening meal on Monday and depart after breakfast on Thursday.

We would be grateful if we could all wear masks whenever we can. Thank you

Cost £250 Monday to Thursday
or £60 non-residential (Tuesday and Wednesday 10am to 5pm)

Llangasty Retreat House, Llangasty, Brecon, Powys, LD3 7PX

Tel: 01874 658250

email: enquiries@llangasty.com

www.llangasty.com

Charity Number 1060743